Weatherproof toolboxes are lightweight and available in six sizes.

KEWASKUM, WI – Oct. 6, 2021 – Heavy Duty Ramps, LLC, a manufacturer of lightweight aluminum products to solve common loading, hauling, and transportation needs, introduces new lockable aluminum underbody toolboxes for commercial trucks and trailers. Designed to store straps, tools or equipment while on the go, they mount to the underside of flatbed, platform, step deck or dump trailers and feature an open interior space.

Each toolbox is manufactured from 1/8" thick aluminum sheeting and is robotically welded for superior strength and durability. The interior opening's rubber gasket creates a tight seal when the doors are closed to prevent moisture, grime and precipitation from entering the toolbox. The cam lock mechanism keeps items secure, and accepts a padlock (not included).
